DocID Enterprise

DocAuto's DocID products are the most reliable, safe, and powerful document identification tools for Microsoft Word and iManage Work. DocAuto's DocID products ensure your document identification information is correct, up to date, and applied to every document created and saved in your system. DocID products also ensure that this information never damages existing document body, header, or footer content.

DocID Enterprise™ provides all of the capabilities of DocID plus the ability to define any number of shared or personal DocID layouts. These layouts are applied automatically on a document-by-document basis based on the document's metadata.

Advantages

DocID Enterprise Edition encompasses all the features of standard DocID, plus:

- Supports multiple ID layout definitions, including personal and/or shared layouts for centralized management
- Provides automatic ID layout selection based on any combination of document metadata, such as author-specific layouts, Client or Client and Matter-specific layouts, document class or subclass-specific layouts, and layouts for no DocID based on filing status, etc.
- Ensures documents created or edited anywhere in your organization have the correct ID layout at all times

User Value

- Reliable identification procedures regardless of which DocID version is appropriate for your business
- Provides safety, accuracy, and completeness regardless of where a document is created or edited
- Offers extended configuration and document identification functionalities
